A: It seems you are experiencing slow load from 4shared. Are you satisfied with performance? If not, you can contact 4shared about their support to my store, I would recommend 4shared to be tested and monitored. Q: SDL_ttf: dlopen(): libSDL_ttf.so.2: cannot open shared object file: No such file or directory I am trying to compile the ttf example from the sdl2 docs (But I have problems with the linking on the line of the function load_fonts: load_fonts(): "/usr/lib/i386-linux-gnu/libSDL_ttf.so.2: cannot open shared object file: No such file or directory" There is another error, but on a different symbol: load_fonts(): "[drm:intel_plane_init_with_pipe] ERROR plane 0: [puts] Bad screen buffer I/O port access. No such device." I didn't changed anything on the Makefile, but still, I get this error. Here is the makefile on GitHub: I compiled for x86_64 linux. I checked the libSDL_ttf.so.2 file, I assume it's correctly installed, because when I use the 'file' command on the file it say: "libSDL_ttf.so.2: ELF 64-bit LSB shared object, x86-64, version 1 (SYSV), dynamically linked (uses shared libs), for GNU/Linux 2.6.11, stripped" Here are the files to check: ldd of the libSDL_ttf.so.2 file: libSDL_ttf.so.2: dynamic module, 32-bit LSB shared object, Intel 80386, version 1 (SYSV), statically linked, not stripped libSDL_ttf.so.2: ELF 64-bit LSB shared object, x86
